About Arts for Learning:

As Miami-Dade County's leading organization solely dedicated to advancing teaching and learning through the arts, Arts for Learning (A4L) works diligently to ensure that the arts are central to the life of every child. By connecting professional visual and performing artists to children in schools, preschools, and after-school and summer programs, children have the opportunity to experience and understand an art form, create a work of art, and connect that art to other areas of learning. A4L's comprehensive services include arts-integrated instruction, student studio programs, community art classes, internships in the arts, and teacher and artist professional development. A4L is a national affiliate of the Wolf Trap Institute for Early Learning and the Young Audiences Arts for Learning network.

Proposed Scope of Work:

Arts for Learning respectfully requests $81,000 to provide visual and performing arts programs for City of Miami Beach children, youth, and families during this pandemic.

A4L Virtual Art Courses (serving up to 240 children)

Arts for Learning will provide 24 virtual afterschool courses in the visual and performing arts (theatre, music, and dance). The courses will be offered in collaboration with A4L's historic beach partners, the public schools located in Miami Beach as well as the afterschool parks programs. As A4L has served the children and families who historically utilize the afterschool programming at these facilities. A4L will run and manage virtual afterschool courses and will publicize the courses through our partners. A4L will offer three 6-week sessions throughout the academic year (fall, winter, and spring sessions). This allows families to enroll for the year or participate only in the seasonal sessions that make sense for their children. A4L's goal is to remain a beacon of consistency during what is an inconsistent time. Classes will be available for children in 2nd through 5th grade. Classes meet twice a week for 6 weeks and are 30-45 minutes in length. Classes have a 1:10 teacher to student ratio and always have a zoom facilitator to ensure everything is working properly and as smoothly as possible.

A4L Live Streams (unlimited access)

Through Facebook Live, A4L will provide beach families with regular weekly visual art and dance classes for children. Facebook Live classes are 30 minutes, and may be accessed even if a family is unable to tune in during the live broadcast as the classes are saved on A4L's Facebook page. Classes will be offered week days and will be curated by age so that each week there are classes for Kinder and 1st grade students, 2nd and 3rd grade students, and 4th and 5th grade students. Any afterschool organization on the beach who resumes in-person programming and wants to offer arts programming for their students may also access A4L's Facebook Live streams for their participants. A4L will offer 24 live stream sessions by age range for a total 72 live stream offerings. In addition, A4L will offer 6 special live streams for preschool age children and their families.

About Arts for Learning:

Arts for Learning (A4L)'s mission is to advance teaching and learning through the arts. A4L seeks to make the arts a central component of every child's education. By instilling students with a passion for knowledge, creativity, and the arts, A4L helps children thrive. To achieve our mission, A4L works with teaching artists who are professional actors, dancers, choreographers, musicians, visual artists, animators, designers, film makers, architects, and creative writers to provide afterschool programs, arts-based summer camps, studio programs, paid internships in the arts for high school students, in-school artist residencies at preschools and schools, and teacher professional development. A4L has worked diligently for more than 20 years to build a compendium of arts care to serve children from infancy through high school. Our thoughtful and comprehensive portfolio of programs grew as a response to community needs. Today we still take a proactive approach in designing, developing, and refining programming to make sure we meet the needs of our community, partners, schools, educators, children, and families. With the tagline, "All Children. All Arts." A4L delivers programs at more than 50 preschools, schools, and out-of-school locations to give South Florida's children and youth the chance to create.

Proposed Scope of Work: Visual and Performing Arts Courses (serving up to 300 children)
